OSCAR HAMMERSTEIN II (1895–1960): Born into a theatrical dynasty headed by his grandfather and namesake, Oscar Hammerstein II began his stage career as a playwright, soon turning to librettos and lyrics written for some of the greatest composers of his day. His innovations breathed new life into the art form of operetta with such classics as Rose-Marie, The Desert Song and The New Moon. He wrote eight musicals with Jerome Kern, including Music in the Air, Sweet Adeline and their masterpiece, Show Boat. His last musical before embarking on an exclusive partnership with Richard Rodgers was Carmen Jones, his retelling of Bizet's tragic opera for an all-black cast. It was produced the season after Oklahoma!. In 1943, Hammerstein joined forces with Richard Rodgers. Their first collaboration merged Hammerstein's advance in operetta with Rodgers' achievements in musical comedy and the result, Oklahoma!, was not only the first of a new genre—the musical play—but also the start of the most successful partnership in the American musical theatre. Over the next 17 years, Rodgers and Hammerstein wrote eight more Broadway musicals—Carousel, Allegro, South Pacific, The King and I, Me and Juliet, Pipe Dream, Flower Drum Song, and The Sound of Music; one movie musical, State Fair; and one for TV, Cinderella. In 1952 he published LYRICS, a collection of his own lyrics with a classic introduction "Notes on Lyrics."
